

Master in Nephropathology

Milan, November 2014 - October 2015

Scientific Director: Franco Ferrario, MD,
Nephropathology
San Gerardo Hospital, Monza, 20900, Italy

Nephropathologists, professionals bridging Nephrology and Pathology, are a scarce and dwindling commodity in diagnostics and research. The Master Course aims at providing an international certification for MDs receiving or producing renal biopsies.

Aims:

To teach the clinical significance of morphological, biochemical and immunological alterations in kidney biopsy from patients with systemic or organ pathology involving the kidney.

To provide essential tools in morphology, histochemistry, immunofluorescence, (using glass and digital slides) ultrastructural microscopy and proteomics for the diagnosis and for research in Nephropathology.
